

Sunday Feb 13

Dear Mom & Dad,

Our work is going well and so we are just relaxing today. Unfortunately it is rather rough - not what we expected in the calm Mediterranean. Even this enormous ship is swinging and surging in 60 knot winds. It is too windy for the jets to take off and air operations have been suspended. Surprisingly, I haven't felt bad, although my appetite is a little below normal. One can stand without holding on, but the stability is poor. Oh well, the storm can't last too long and Friday we will get to Palma.

I'm just very happy we are not in a smaller ship!

Every night after dinner movies are shown and they are recent ones. So far I have watched "Walkabout",
"Thephisto Waltz", and "McCall & Mrs. Miller". Free popcorn and cold drinks are available.
Also I have plenty to read and cards for solitaire so
the time passes quickly.
